

SHAPING GLOBAL LEADERS ONLINE

Overview

MBA@UNC is the innovative online MBA program from top-ranked UNC Kenan-Flagler Business School. MBA@UNC features the same rigorous curriculum as the on-campus program, and students earn the same UNC Kenan-Flagler MBA. Courses are delivered in a live, virtual classroom by UNC's world-renowned faculty.

International Admissions Policies

- International candidates must have a college-level education equivalent to an American undergraduate or baccalaureate degree. Generally this is a four-year degree; however there are a number of universities around the world that offer three-year undergraduate programs. If you received a bachelor's degree upon completion of one of these three-year undergraduate programs, talk to your admissions counselor to see if your degree qualifies you to apply.
- International students will need to have academic transcripts reviewed by the World Education Service. They will compare your international education and grades with the U.S. system and produce an evaluation report to help us determine if your credentials meet our qualifications.
- If English is not your native language, you will be required to take the TOEFL, IELTS or PTE Academic exam. Our school code for these tests is 5816. You do not need to submit a TOEFL, IELTS or PTE score if you:
 - Earned an undergraduate or graduate degree at a U.S. college or university
 - Conducted your total education in English in a native English-speaking country
 - Earned an undergraduate degree or graduate degree from India. We will request test scores from some Indian candidates as needed.
- International students will also be required to submit standard application materials including a current resume, three letters of recommendation, GRE/ GMAT test scores (some exclusions apply) and a personal essay, as well as undergoing a personal interview on our online platform.

Meet Our Students

MBA@UNC students come from all over the world. Our current students and alumni represent 39 states and 35 countries including Afghanistan, Bermuda, Switzerland, China, Hong Kong, India, Japan, Kuwait, Mexico, Poland, Singapore and the United States.

Rajiv Sridhar,
Senior Product
Manager, Paypal
MBA@UNC Class
of 2013
San Jose, California

“MBA@UNC offered the perfect blend...a world-class education delivered right at my doorstep.”

Louis Chen,
Program Manager,
HGST
MBA@UNC Class
of 2014
San Francisco, CA

“The most appealing part of MBA@UNC was the fact that it took out the geographical barriers of getting a high-quality education.”

The Best of On-Campus Online

- The same highly selective admissions criteria and academically rigorous curriculum as the on-campus programs
- The same globally ranked MBA degree earned by on-campus students
- Live, interactive online class sessions delivered face-to-face by the same UNC professors found on campus
- Small, personal class sizes of no more than 20 students
- Face-to-face meetings with faculty during online office hours
- An engaging online community that encourages collaboration through the use of familiar social networking tools

World-Class Student Services

- A dedicated admissions counselor to guide you through the application process
- A student services team that includes technical support
- A lifelong connection to the UNC Tar Heel community
- Dedicated, customized leadership development and career management support focused on your needs as a working professional

Lifelong Learning

- Full access to your entire MBA curriculum and class sessions after graduation
- Opportunity to enroll in additional courses at cost at any time to broaden your skills and network

Start Dates

- MBA@UNC admits four student cohorts each year. Classes begin in January, April, July and October.
- For more information about the application process and admissions criteria, visit onlinemba.unc.edu or call 888.9UNC.MBA.

Global Immersion Experiences

MBA@UNC students have the ability to attend multiple Global Immersions: hands-on elective learning experiences hosted in cities around the world such as Istanbul, Singapore, Chicago and New York City. These immersions give students the opportunity to forge valuable relationships with classmates and professors as well as experience other cultures and business policies first-hand. Expand your professional network and travel to major centers of global business affairs.

In the News

UNC Kenan-Flagler Graduates First Class of Pioneering Online MBA Program

“To date, MBA@UNC students have attributed over 100 promotions or career changes to the impact of their program.”

Seek Online MBA Programs That Provide Travel Opportunities

“In 2012, [MBA@UNC] students traveled to London to study the European debt crisis. They met with the CEO of Raytheon, the editor-in-chief of The Economist and other experts.”